

Comments from Mattias Perjos, President & CEO

Strong growth and improved cash flows

“Our growth remains higher than the market average, our positive performance in the US is continuing and net sales in China increased by more than 30%. The new GSS610H Sterilizer was launched in the quarter and the most recent version of the Servo-u ventilator is now ready for launch on all markets that require CE marking. I am pleased with the development in Acute Care Therapies and Life Science in the quarter and that our working capital is continuing to decline despite our growth, which has a positive impact on cash flow. However, I am not satisfied with our margins, which were impacted by the negative development in Surgical Workflows. Investments in compliance, quality and remediation measures as well as adjustments to EU’s forthcoming medical device regulation (EU MDR) had a negative effect on our margins and are expected to continue in the coming quarters. We have carried out restructuring measures for a cost of SEK 106 M, primarily related to efficiency enhancements in sales and administrative processes, which can be expected to positively impact earnings in the second half of 2019. One measure is that our two shared service centers are being merged, with all operations in Costa Rica being transferred to the unit in Krakow, Poland. In summary, we will continue to intensify our efforts to strengthen the profitability of the operations in general and in Surgical Workflows in particular, in the coming quarters.”

- The Consent Decree with the FDA was signed in February 2015 and originally encompassed a total of four production units in the US and Germany.
- Improvement plans for the identified corrections have been prepared for each unit. Such identified corrections have been completed at the two production units in the US. The work is expected to continue for another two years at Hechingen.
- Getinge committed SEK 995 M in 2014 related to the remediation program for strengthening the former Medical Systems' quality management system, and in 2016 and 2017 SEK 400 M and SEK 488 M, respectively, were committed for the same purpose. The total cost of the remediation program thus amounted to SEK 1,983 M at the end of the first quarter of 2019.

In autumn 2018 and the start of 2019, Getinge's production units in Fairfield and Mahwah received warning letters from the FDA. The reason for the warning letters was routine inspections performed by the FDA at these production units in 2018. The FDA's observations and opinions pertain to procedures and processes linked to demands for supplier checks, processes for the approval of design changes and incident reporting.

The same observations were identified by Getinge during internal inspections in the fourth quarter of 2017. The local organization has since worked to correct the shortcomings in the quality management system.

Getinge has submitted an action plan, including activities and a related schedule, to the FDA and improvements are proceeding according to plan. Net sales and the financial impact related to these observations are not deemed to be material. Nor will production capacity be affected by this work.

Acute Care Therapies

Acute Care Therapies offers world-leading solutions for life support in acute health conditions. The offering includes solutions for cardiovascular procedures and a broad selection of products and therapies for intensive care. The addressable market amounts to SEK 85 billion with expected organic growth of 2-4% per year.

- Positive trend, order growth in all product categories.
- Highly robust growth in heart-lung machines, including consumables.

- Net sales growing in all regions
- 14% growth in Critical Care, mainly due to strong sales of ventilators.
- Healthy growth in cardiac surgery products on all markets.
- Sales of expandable vascular stents have stabilized.
- Sales of capital goods increased, which negatively affected the gross margin.

- The adjusted gross margin fell by 0.2 of a percentage point in relation to the year-earlier quarter. The underlying trend was positive for most product categories, but was offset mainly by costs related to ongoing remediation measures and an unfavorable product mix, with a higher element of capital goods.
- Adjusted operating expenses increased by 7.0% compared with the year-earlier period and excluding currency and IFRS 16 effects were 4.8% higher, mainly related to remediation measures and preparations for EU's forthcoming medical device regulation (EU MDR).
- Higher sales, a stable gross margin and a positive currency effect contributed to an increase in the adjusted EBITA margin of 0.8 of a percentage point compared with the preceding year.
- Currency effects impacted sales by SEK +203 M, gross profit by SEK +122 M and EBITA by SEK +61 M.

The project, which was started in 2018, entails that the Getinge plant will gain access to an additional 500 square meters of effective workspace for a limited investment cost. The order intake for sterilizers has been strong in the past 12 months and a SEK 96 M agreement was signed in June for delivery of a modern ethylene oxide plant for a customer in the US.
- Getinge's DPTE-BetaBag® for sterile transfer received the Supplier Excellence Award from MilliporeSigma, part of the multinational Merck Group. MilliporeSigma and Getinge have worked together for more than ten years on the development and manufacture of a customized DPTE-BetaBag® for the sterile transfer of liquid products. Sales growth in DPTE-BetaBag® is high and a decision was made in the quarter to invest in greater capacity and increased fire safety at the plant in Vendôme, France.

Like the other steam sterilizers in the portfolio, GSS610H integrates with existing sterilization departments to optimize throughput.

Other information

Risk management

Health care reimbursement system

Political decisions represent the single greatest market risk to Getinge. Changes to the health care reimbursement system can have a major impact on individual markets by reducing or deferring grants. This risk is limited by Getinge being active in a large number of geographical markets.

Customers

Activities conducted by Getinge's customers are generally financed directly or indirectly by public funds and ability to pay is usually very solid, although payment behavior can vary between different countries. All transactions outside the OECD area are covered by payment guarantees, unless the customer's ability to pay is well documented.

Authorities and control bodies

Parts of Getinge's product range are covered by legislation stipulating rigorous assessments, quality control and documentation. It cannot be ruled out that Getinge's operations, financial position and earnings may be negatively impacted in the future by difficulties in complying with current regulations and requirements of authorities and control bodies or changes to such regulations and requirements. To limit these risks to the greatest possible extent, Getinge conducts extensive work focused on quality and regulatory issues and the Group-wide quality and regulatory compliance function has a representative on the management teams of each business area. The function is also represented in all R&D and production units. The majority of the Group's production facilities are certified according to the medical device quality standard ISO 13485 and/or the general quality standard ISO 9001. Getinge is also, and may become in the future, involved in government investigations, disputes and similar proceedings within the framework of its other business operations concerning such issues as the environment, tax and competition. Since Getinge operates in a global environment, the company is also exposed to local business risks, such as corruption and restrictions on trade. To minimize the risk of being subject to such investigations, disputes and proceedings, Getinge works actively on developing, implementing and maintaining policies and systems for ensuring compliance with applicable rules and regulations.

Research and development

Getinge's future growth also depends on the company's ability to develop new and successful products. Research and development efforts are costly and it is impossible to guarantee that developed products will be commercially successful. As a means of maximizing the return on investments in research and development efforts, the Group applies a structured selection and planning process that includes careful analyses of the market, technological progress, choice of production method and selection of subcontractors. The actual development work is also conducted in a structured manner and each project undergoes a number of fixed control points.

Product liability and damage claims

Health care suppliers run a risk, like other players in the health care industry, of being subject to product liability and other legal claims. Such claims can involve large amounts and significant legal expenses. Getinge cannot provide any guarantees that its operations will not be subject to compensation claims. Getinge carries the customary indemnity and product liability insurance, but there is a risk that Getinge's insurance coverage may not fully cover product liability and other claims.

Protection of intellectual property rights

Getinge is a market leader in the areas in which it operates and invests significant amounts in product development. To secure returns on these investments, Getinge actively upholds its rights and monitors competitors' activities closely. There is the risk when new products are developed that other companies may claim a patent infringement, which could result in disputes. If required, Getinge will protect its intellectual property rights through legal processes.

Financial risk management

Getinge is exposed to a number of financial risks in its operations. Financial risks principally pertain to risks related to currency risks, interest-rate risks and credit and counterparty risks. Risk management is regulated by the finance policy adopted by the Board and a Treasury directive decided by the Getinge Executive Team based on the finance policy. The ultimate responsibility for managing the Group's financial risks and developing methods and principles of financial risk management lies with the Getinge Executive Team and the treasury function. For more detailed information concerning these risks, refer to the Group's Annual Report. The Group has a number of participations in foreign operations whose net assets are exposed to currency risks. Currency exposure that arises from net assets in the Group's foreign operations is primarily managed by borrowing in said foreign currency.

Seasonal variations

Getinge's sales and earnings are affected by seasonal variations. Higher net sales are normally generated in the fourth quarter, followed by the second, third and first quarters. The shares of sales derived from capital goods and consumables also normally changes during the year, with a higher share of sales of capital goods toward the end of the year.

Transactions with related parties

Getinge carried out normal commercial transactions with Arjo (which was distributed to shareholders in December 2017) for the sale and purchase of goods and services. In addition, no other significant transactions with related parties occurred during the period other than transactions with subsidiaries.

Forward-looking information

This report contains forward-looking information based on the current expectations of company management. Although management deems that the expectations presented by such forward-looking information are reasonable, no guarantee can be given that these expectations will prove correct. Accordingly, the actual future outcome could vary considerably compared with what is stated in the forward-looking information, due to such factors as changed conditions regarding finances, market and competition, changes in legal and regulatory requirements and other political measures, and fluctuations in exchange rates.

Getinge's financial targets

- Average annual organic growth in net sales: 2-4 %
- Average earnings per share growth: >10%
- Getinge's dividend policy is to pay dividends of 30-50% of net profit to shareholders.

The Board of Directors and CEO assure that the interim report provides a true and fair review of the Parent Company and the Group's operations, position and earnings and describes the material risks and uncertainties faced by the Parent Company and the Group.

Note 1 Accounting policies

The Group's interim report has been prepared in accordance with IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting and the Swedish Annual Accounts Act. For the Parent Company, the report has been prepared in accordance with the Swedish Annual Accounts Act and RFR 2. The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those applied for the 2018 Annual Report and should be read in conjunction with that Annual Report, with one exception. The Group applies IFRS 16 Leases, which replaces IAS 17 Leases, from January 1, 2019 and the new accounting policies are described in the section "New accounting policies" below.

The interim report provides alternative performance measures for monitoring the Group's operations. Percentual changes and key figures in the report have been calculated based on the rounded amounts as presented in the report. Unless otherwise specified, all figures pertain to SEK M and figures in parentheses pertain to the year-earlier period.

New accounting policies

Getinge applies IFRS 16 Leases from January 1, 2019. The Group has decided to apply the modified retrospective approach and accordingly has not restated comparative figures. Instead, right-of-use assets for leases assets have been measured at an amount corresponding to the outstanding lease obligations on January 1, 2019¹⁾. In connection with the transition to IFRS 16, Getinge decided to use the same discount rate for lease assets of similar characteristics. Getinge's decision to apply the modified retrospective approach has also meant that direct costs for the measurement of the right-of-use assets were excluded and assessment was used in determining the remaining lease terms in connection with initial application of the standard.

Under IFRS 16, an asset (the right to use the leased asset) and a financial liability (the obligation to pay to make lease payments) are recognized in the balance sheet. Since no difference is made between operating and finance leases, the implementation of the standard entailed that all material leases in which Getinge is the lessee were recognized in the consolidated balance sheet. Only short-term leases and low-value leases are exempted.

When the standard was introduced on January 1, 2019, right-of-use assets of SEK 1,056 M and lease liabilities of SEK 1,017 M were recognized on new rows in the consolidated balance sheet²⁾. Right-of-use assets are primarily attributable to leased premises and vehicles. In the income statement, operating leasing costs have been replaced by costs for depreciation of right-of-use assets and interest expenses attributable to lease liabilities. For this reason, operating profit will increase compared with previously since some of the lease payments will be recognized as interest expenses in net financial items. As a result, the standard impacts several of the Group's key figures. See Note 9 for more information on the effects of IFRS 16.

The effects of the transition to IFRS 16 are presented in the table below with the discount effect calculated using the Group's weighted average borrowing rate of 2.5%.

Effects of introduction of IFRS 16

| SEK M | |
|---|--------------|
| Obligation for operating leases under IAS 17 at December 31, 2018 | 996 |
| Discount effect | -55 |
| Short-term leases and low-value leases | -11 |
| Extension/termination options that it is reasonably certain will be exercised | 87 |
| Lease liability under IFRS 16 at January 1, 2019 | 1,017 |
| Prepaid lease payments | 39 |
| Right-of-use assets under IFRS 16 at January 1, 2019 | 1,056 |

- 1) Upon the introduction of IFRS 16, Getinge has applied the modified retrospective method, which means that opening retained earnings are not affected by the transition.
- 2) Under IFRS 16, right-of-use assets are recognized at an amount corresponding to the present value of the lease liability, plus lease payments paid at or prior to the start of the lease term. For this reason, an amount of SEK 39 M was reclassified from the item other current receivables to right-of-use assets in connection with the introduction of IFRS 16.

New accounting policies for leases

The following accounting policies are applied now that Getinge recognizes leases in accordance with IFRS 16 from January 1, 2019.

Getinge as a lessee

The Group's leases mainly comprise right-of-use assets for premises and vehicles. The leases are recognized as a right-of-use asset with a corresponding lease liability when the leased asset is available for use by the Group. Short-term leases and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value are exempted. Each lease payment should be divided between amortization of the lease liability and a financial cost. The financial cost should be allocated over the lease term, so that each reporting period is charged with an amount corresponding to a fixed interest rate for the liability recognized under each period.

The Group's lease liabilities are recognized at the present value of the Group's fixed lease payments. Purchase options are included if it is reasonably certain that Getinge will exercise the option to acquire the underlying asset. Penalties for terminating the lease are included if the lease term reflects that the lessee will exercise an option to cancel the lease. Lease payments are discounted with the interest rate implicit in the lease, if this rate can easily be determined. Otherwise, the Group's incremental borrowing rate is applied.

The Group's right-of-use assets are recognized at cost, and include initial present value of the lease liability, adjusted for lease payment made at or before the commencement date and any initial direct expenses. Restoration costs are included in the asset if a corresponding provision for restoration costs exists. The right-to-use asset is depreciated on a straight-line basis over the assets useful life and the lease term, whichever is the shortest.

Getinge as lessor

Leasing agreements are defined in two categories, operational and financial, depending on the financial significance of the agreement. Operating leases are recognized as non-current assets. Revenue from operating leases is recognized evenly over the lease term. Straight-line depreciation is applied to these assets in accordance with the undertakings and the depreciation amount is adjusted to correspond with the estimated realizable value when the undertaking expires. The estimated impairment requirement is immediately charged to profit or loss. The products' estimated realizable value at the expiration of the undertaking is continuously followed up on an individual basis. Financial leases are recognized as long-term and current receivables. Payments received from financial leases are divided between interest income and depreciation of receivables.
